THE FAMILY RECORD

PREFACE

This Family Record I have had copied from a typed manuscript in the possession of my Uncle, Ernest Spurr Lamb of Philadelphia. It is a record of five generations of Lambs from 1706 to 1876, including much information about the families into which they married.

This material has no title and is not signed but there is plenty of proof that Truxton German Lamb compiled this Family Record. When referring to his stepmother Hulda (White) Lamb, the text says: "The writer of these Incidents T. G. L., her stepson, feels under great obligation to her." He refers to himself often as 'T.G.' and I shall use his initials when mentioning him.

I grew up knowing that there was a Lamb family history somewhere about but had no interest in it, until in 1928, having two daughters of my own, I decided to collect their ancestry. I asked my mother, Clara (Lamb 9) Davis, what she could tell me about the family. I quote from a letter I have from her written in April 1928 from Haddonfield, New Jersey. My Grandmother Rebecca (Spurr) Lamb, widow of Charles Card 8 Lamb, lived with her. "Grandma found the family record in her chiffonier and this morning I read it over till I found the direct line. The account is very interesting, telling color of hair, eyes, height, weight, occupation, schooling, homes purchased and sold, number of children. Look it over sometime when you come down."

In among the papers sent me along with this Family Record is a letter signed by R. L. Lamb who was Reuben Lonson Lamb, half-brother to T. G., written to his grandniece Delia M. Lamb on Jan. 14, 1904, saying "You ask for information in the way of geneology of your family,--- Your grandfather - Truxton - was at the trouble some years before his death to look up these matters to a large extent and at his death these papers came into my hands."

T.G.'s record is written under two dates. In the first part he refers to people 'living in 1861, his numbering system is good. In the latter part writing about himself he says "Truxton G...now in 1876 at 64 years of age". This second part is harder to follow and not so carefully numbered. I have in no way altered the original material. The spelling and punctuation are his, at least they are as I found them on the typed manuscript that I copied.

I will briefly outline the three generations preceding Ebenezer 4 with whom T. G. begins and calls (1). I will outline the generations he covers, Ebenezer 4, Reuben 5, Joshua 6, T. G. 7 and I will add all the descendants of Truxton German 7 Lamb that I have record of calling T. G. #1.

TRUXTON GERMAN LAMB

TRUXTON GERMAN LAMB was born Oct. 21, 1811, Columbus, N.Y. From his own account he was "a man 6 ft. in his stocking feet, straight built, strong made, weighs 190 to 200, light complexion, now at 64 yrs (1876) has good health. He attended common school making ordinary proficiency in the branches taught therein. At age 19 attended a school in Norwich, N.Y. for three months, taught by C. C. Foster."

He called himself a farmer, but he also taught school, kept store, bought and sold land, and traveled extensively. In his "Family Record" he lists offices he held as follows:

Places of Trust and Honor

- 1831-35 Quarter Master in Rifle Regiment.
- 1838 School Visitor
- 1840-45 Commissioner of Schools
- 1839-45 Commissioner of Deeds
- 1851-56 Town Supt. in Edmeston, N.Y.

- 1858 Member of N.Y. Assembly from Chenango Co., N.Y.
- 1859 Appointed by Legislature to lay roads in town of Plainfield
- 1877 Trustee of Clinton Liberal Institute at Canton, N.Y.

He was administrator of several estates, conducted funeral services, active in the Masonic Lodge. In religion he was a Universalist. In politics he was when young a Democrat became a Republican over the "free soil" issue and later was a Prohibitionist.

He states that he did not chew, smoke, drink or use profane language. He was married four times and died in Sherburne, N.Y. Jan. 25, 1880 at the age of 69.

Miss Delia M. Lamb,

Dear Niece:

Your letter of the 12th inst. just received and I hasten to make acknowledgment of the favor.

Yes, I was somewhat surprised on receiving your letter, for, save for the short call of your brother and new wife last fall, I had almost lost track of the family. We were very much pleased with your brother, also his wife and were very sorry their stay was necessarily so short.

You speak of my son in New York. He is engaged in one of the schools in the city as a teacher of the modern languages. His present address is No. 21 East 98th street and I will enclose your letter in my next to him. He is very busy preparing a paper for the close of Amherst College of which he is a graduate, but hope he may be able to look you up in the near future, for the circle of the Lamb family is rapidly growing smaller.

You ask for information in the way of the geneology of our family. I regret that the materials for furnishing the desired information have passed out of my possession. Your grandfather - Truxton - was at the trouble some years before his death to look up these matters to a large extent and at his death the papers came into my hands but something more than a year since your aunt Alice Wilbur of Binghamton very much desired to look up some matters of especial interest to her and these notes were forwarded by me to her and are now, doubtless in her possession, and, upon correspondence with her, you would very likely be able to learn what you might desire.

I may add, however, in reference to one point of your inquiries that the Lambs came originally from England, while the mother of seven boys of which your great grandfather - my father - was one, came from Ireland, and lived to be more than ninety years old. The home of your great, great, grandfather - my grandfather - was in the town of Oxford Worcester Co. Mass. where he had a grist mill upon the small French River. He took part in what is known in history as "Shay's Rebellion" which occurred just after the close of the Revolutionary war, and for this act of his, his entire property was confiscated by the government. That Rebellion was caused by the effort of the General Government, under the Articles of Confederation - the Constitution not having yet been adopted to place the debt on their shoulders, upon the States respectively, which at the time was very unpopular.

I send love of self and family to yourself and the other members of your family circle, and would be glad to hear from you again.

Affectionately

R. L. Lamb

P.S. William W. Lamb is the name of my son.

 Joshua Lamb (30) son of Reubin (8) was born in Oxford, Mass. Feby. 12, 1780 & died in Columbus N.Y. Jany. 6, 1864, aged 84 y. lacking 36 days on the 25th of Feby. 1808 he married Sarah dau. of Peter German, Esq., of Columbus, N.Y. & formerly of Dutchess Co. Sarah was born Apl. 19, 1786 & died Nov. 8, 1819 aged 33 y. 6 mo. & 19 days. On Mch. 20, 1820 married Huldah dau. of Capt. Saml White of N. Berlin & formerly of Blanford, Mass. Huldah was born Nov. 11 1789 in Blanford & died in Columbus Sept. 21, 1875 agedY ...mo....ds. Joshua was 6 ft. high, stood straight, strong made, usual weight about 200, light complexion, sandy hair, white as snow in his latter days, had large firmness & combativeness, which gave him unusual energy and character. Being blessed with a vigorous constitution and an indomitable will, he was just the man to encounter & overcome the hardships & privation of a new country save in our particular. In Augt. 1782 when 2 1/2 years of age, he met with an irreparable misfortune in the loss of the use of his left hand by the stroke of a chopping axe in the hands of his brother Alvin. Alvin took from a piece of pine board, laid it upon a log & when about to strike Joshua put out his hand to get it and

and rec'd the whole bit of the axe on the back part of the hand from the 3 joint in the thumb transversely towards & into the wrist joint, separating the hand from the arm entirely save a little flesh and skin on each side. It was suitably draped by his mother. A physician was sent for & while examining the wound, got his finger accidentally into the cut, started the blood and fainted. It was cut off Friday and on Sunday another Doct.- Fisher examined it and said the hand must be taken off, laid out his implements and made ready. Joshua seeing and understanding the preparation said to his father "if this hand is taken off will another grow out?" His father replied "No". Then says he, "I will not have it cut off for I shall want it"- The amputation was abandoned & the hand in a crippled & deformed condition was saved. This arm is some 4 or 5 inches shorter than the right, smaller & crooked & deficient in strength. The thumb and forefinger stiff and drawn together & the end of the other 3 fingers drawn near the palm of the hand. By reason of this disability, while his brother worked out on farms about he was employed about the Home & in the mill and such other work as he could do. His brothers had their time at 19. He had his in Augt. before he was 18. In the fall of 1798 he went 3 months to Leicester Academy in the town north of Oxford 6 miles from home. Kept school in his father's district in the winters of 1798 & 9. In the summer of 1799 went 6 months to Leicester A. In the winters of 1799 & 1800 taught school at Oxford Center. In the summer of 1800 worked farm in the neighborhood & boarded at home. In the winter of 1800 he kept school by what was known as 'The Pond' in Oxford for 10 weeks & in last of the winter a short time again at home. In Apl. 1801 hired out to 2 men to work on a farm, half the time for each. Worked 3 weeks for one & 2 for the other and gave up, could not stand it with the lame hand. Reubin his brother said "Go with me". His father was unwilling to have him go, fearful of his ability to provide for himself in his crippled condition. His father had intended to give him a liberal education but a reverse in his fortune had rendered it impossible. He said "Father I will go and see if I can live. An opening may be found somewhere, I can but fair at the worst." And he started with Reubin for Milford N.Y. & had horse, saddle, bridle, saddle bags and a little money---in all less than $100 in value. Came to Milford in June 1801 & got into school immediately by help of Reubin. Taught through the summer and next winter 1801 & 2. In May 1802 came to Columbus to visit brother Alvin. An ark loaded with wheat was about to start down the Unadilla & Susquehanna Rivers to Baltimore, Alvin was going & Joshua also went as a hand. This grain was the production of the farmers of New Berlin and Columbus (then Brookfield) seeking a market in the channel. The wheat became injured on the way and sold at Hava de, Grace for 2/8 per bushel. They were 14 days going down & 12 days coming back. At Bainbridge got so foot sore could walk no farther, hired a horse here & rode home, spent more than their wages besides much wear and tear of the body. "Saw the Elephant on this journey". In the fall of 1802 went with Reubin to Oxford. He bought a horse & carriage & some dry goods & brought them to Milford, & he and Joshua went in Company. Joshua sold goods & made potash & Reubin practiced medicine. Joshua cut his own wood, worked the potash, and often lay by the arch over night. In the fall of 1803 Joshua & Reubin went to Salisbury Ct. R. went to Oxford and taught school again in his home district in the winter of 1803 & 4. About June 1804 came to Columbus (then Bainbridge)

Alvin had the house in which J afterwards lived framed & ready to raise. Soon got the appointment of Constable in the place of Saml. Campbell who was elected but declined serving. This office in those days was lucrative, as seeing and putting people in jail for non-payment of debts was of common occurrence. This furnished money for completing the house that A. & J. were building, Joshua having bought a half interest in it. In the Spring of 1805 & 6 J. elected Constable. Litigation increased & the office was still more profitable. In the Spring of 1807 Price French was chose Constable. J. tilled land upon shares during the summer & in Feby. 25th 1808 married Sarah German. He commenced keeping house one or two days after town meeting at Columbus Corners. In May following took license, put up sign and opened a tavern with very limited means. Wife had one bed, hired 2 more, kept public house from that time until 1845 with the exception of 4 years (1818 to 1822) up to the time of completing the Erie Canal 1825. There was an immense amount of trade on this road from Albany through Chenango & to the northern counties & although taverns were numerous he had all the business he could do. This for him was a harvest time and it was well improved and a competence secured. Testimony of the measure of confidence his Contemporaries had in his integrity may be found in the following facts:

Order, which institution he always defended even in the time of Antimasonry, joined the Order in Cooperstown in 1802 & took 3 degrees, took the 4 about 1804 and in 1810 was made a Royal Arch Mason at New Berlin with Saml. Campbell & Constant Parkins. He was a friend of common schools & took care to have the facility of a good practical education before his children. In politics he was a Federalist up to 1832, since that he acted with the Democrats. In religion sentiment he was a Universalist of the Winchester Order. In 1806 or 7 a meeting of that Order was held in his house, the first ever held in this part of the country. In business he was energetic, perservering, prompt & spent many hours in improving his condition while most of the people were asleep. Up to June 1827 he had enjoyed good health, never had medical aid but twice-- when his hand was cut & when suffering from Small Pox, which left its marks upon his face. At this time June 1827 was taken with pleurisy, which resulted with inflammation of the lungs. Was confined to his bed through July & August. Doctor Mitchell of Norwich, Joseph White of Cherry Valley pronounced him incurable but a vigorous constitution, together with the best of Attention by Doct. E. Rop of New Berlin raised him up. In September when he needed aid to get into a wagon with his wife Doct. Rop & wife, Dr. Finch & wife & May Blow, he took a tour through the western part of the state through Rochester & to Niagara Falls & returned much improved. At various times he traveled as follows: 1802 Went to Oxford upon horseback and came back in wagon, 250 miles. 1803 Went to his fathers and back, 250 miles. 1806 went to his fathers & back, 250 miles. 1810 Went to his fathers & back, horseback 250 miles. 1816 Went and returned with horse and wagon 250 miles. 1821 Went and returned with horse and double wagon with Wm. Henderson, 250 miles. 1827 Went to

N. Falls &c, 300 miles. 1827 Went to Utica by stage, Albany by canal, N.Y. C. by steamboat, Boston by sail vessel, Oxford by stage thence home by stage 650 miles. Was accompanied by Mr. R. Rop. 1832 Went to Delaware, Oh. by stage, to Utica canal, to Buffalo steamboat, to Cleveland stage & canal, to D. 1100. To him the town of Columbus is indebted for an addition of $50 to the school fund, made up of surplus taxes, collected by former Supervisors & not accounted for. A report being made him of these several sums & by whom retained it was ordered to be collected and added to said fund. He and his associates who encountered the privation and hardships, incident to the settlement of this then new rugged, wooded country, are now 1876 dwellers in the "City of the Dead", while their children enjoy the fruit of their labor, little thinking of the toil by which these blessings have been secured. As an illustration of the energy and determination put forth when he entered into any project--the following incidents may be mentioned. Israel Greenleaf had a demand Agt. John Miller living in the north part of the town on what was known as the "Old Gifford Place". In those days 1805 if a man was unable or unwilling to pay he was put into jail if he could be caught. Miller was on the lookout, kept in his house & boasted that no Constable was able to take him. It was not lawful to enter a dwelling without permission, to take a man. Greenleaf says to J.L. "you can catch him". He replied "I can try". He rode his horse early in the evening & tied him to a tree a short distance from the house, walked around and took his position back of it. Heard the old man in the house. Shortly two men with a team called at the house for something to make a light. The old man said "he had nothing in the house and did not like to go out as the plaguy Constable was after him." He soon came out however after some dry bark around the corner of the house and was greeted with a strong grip on his shoulder and a "good evening Mr. Miller, I have been waiting for you sometime. Upon the promise of good behavior he was permitted to walk along while the Constable rode by his side. As they came to a large mud hole in the road and going over each side, Miller says "I am going to leave you" and run. The saddle was vacated, long strides were made after him and a loud scream at each jump. Soon Miller felt the same grip upon his shoulder found himself upon his back with an elbow pressing heavily upon his breast. Being rather uncomfortably situated he made all required promises and kept them. He was a Methodist.

About 1829 Silas Clark, son of Maj. Walter Clark of Columbus came from the north in the stage and had $400 in a bundle, which Mary, wife of Olney Perkins, stole while he was out of the coach, having left the bundle on the seat. Had her examined found nothing. After a little time it was suspected that she designed to leave slyly for Rhode Island and some persons were on the lookout. Some months after in October Stephen Howard of Columbus, in the night rapped at J. L. Door and says "they have gone". He with May Clark pursued and found them at Unadilla, Otsego Co. N.Y. at Baggs Hotel. Without any legal authority he ordered Mrs. Bagg to search Mrs. Perkins for the money. She searched and reported she could find nothing of the money. He then directed her to strip the woman naked put on other clothes & let him have hers for examination. In this process while her skirt was being withdrawn a bag or pocket was discovered held on the upper end by a string passing between her legs up back and tied to the first string. One jerk by Mrs. Bagg loosened it & she brought it to him for examination. In it was found one-half of the money, the other half as was afterward shown, was left with her husband. But few would have dared to push the matter to this extreme as a failure would have brought unpleasant consequences to him. But he undertook to succeed and he did. She died on her way to Auburn prison by poison from her own hands as was supposed. His good and reliable friends in early days were Capt. Barnum, John Whitmore, Capt. David Smith, Tracy Robinson, Rob't Muir of Columbus and Chas. Knapp (his bail as Deputy Sheriff) Jaby Beardslee, Levi Blakeslee & A. C. Welch of New Berlin. He has all his children to "start in life". In the latter part of his life until 1862 he lived with his son R. L. Lamb, after this with his son Harlow R. with whom he died. His death was sudden and unexpected, died while lying on his bed eating breakfast with food in his mouth and without a struggle. He left $16000 to his children. He was an excellent penman & a good hand for making writings. Annexed is his autograph. To his children in the day of sickness he was an angel of mercy. Sarah, his first wife, was born in Cold Spring, Dutchess Co. N.Y. Apl. 19, 1786 and died in Columbus N.Y. Nov. 8, 1819 aged 33 years, 6 mo. 19 da. She had dark brown hair, dark gray eyes, about 5 ft. 4 in. high, straight, well formed and good looking. Had limited education, ambitious and energetic in business & a good faithful wife. She was the dau. of Peter German, Esq. who lived and died on the first farm south of Columbus. His wife was Hannah Cash who had brothers Joseph & Jonathan. His rare talents soon made him one of the foremost men west of the Hudson River. Was generally known as "Gen. German". He was County Judge, Assemblyman 7 years, Speaker in 18... U.S. Senator 6 years. He married Anna Lewis and they had Lewis, Maria, Walter, Darius, Moris Southerland, Albert, Julia. By his second wife Mary Ann Knight he had Frederick E. and George C. Anna hung herself on an apple tree. Lewis was educated at West Point, entered the army and died at Sackett Harbor, left wife who married James Alton of Cherry Valley and one son, a tanner, who worked awhile at Edmeston. Maria married Eld. Harmon, a Methodist preacher of some note, once a presiding elder & born in Va. Walter & Darius after being in merchandise awhile left for parts unknown & have not been heard from. Southerland married Wiggell of No. Norwich. Had a large family, made poor steerage & went west. Albert went to Norton, Oh. lived there & is a steady respectable man. Julia married Stephen Anderson of Sherburne. He died about 1858. Frederick was unsteady, went about with a wind targetgun, enlisted in the army & got into an asylum for sick and disabled soldiers near Cincinnati, Oh. George Obadiah at his marriage with his wife Mary Ann was worth $10,000. By her and her brother George he was stripped of his property & in his old age (80 or more) died penniless. Mary Ann, his wife, after his death wandered here and there, led a life of shame & died in Syracuse, Jany. 1861 & was buried at the public expense. Silas Peter's brother lived & died in Dutchess Co. Phrenologically she had large Benevolence, veneration, conscientiousness and philoprogenitiveness. In early life she married against the advice of her parents, Abner Ransom; which was an unfortunate step. One son and one dau. was the fruit of this union. The dau. died in infancy. Nelson was a kind hearted, unstable, erratic sort of a man, learned the carpenter's trade of Rouse Clark of New Berlin, went to Buffalo & thence to Abington, Va. where he died & of a wife & 3 children only one remained in 1876. As the wife of J. L. she well and faithfully performed her duty. Subsequent to his death she had lived with her sons Harlow E., Reubin L., Edwin H. & lastly with her stepson Truxton G. where she died Sept. 21st 1875. Up to 1868 she had good health and the use of her limbs. In Sept. of that year she, while at her son's Reubin's house in Niagara Co. fell and injured her hip, which left her disabled the remainder of her life, though after some six months she could, by the aid of a staff, walk about the house. On the 8th of July 1875 she was stricken with paralysis of her right side, which injured her mind
